for Politics?
China Key to War

Taxes are supposed to be levied according to law, not at the whims of office-holders — and the same goes for the assessing base on which taxes are levied.

But, politics being what it is, you aren't entirely surprised to read that Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller disclosed Thursday the assessment of his real estate in Conway county has suddenly been doubled.

"It wasn't raised 40 per cent or 60 per cent, but just flatly doubled, which seemed to me to be peculiar," the governor said.

The individual taxpayer has, of course, the right to appeal to the Equalization Board, and beyond that the courts — and the courts usually straighten out in a hurry any attempt to manipulate assessments for political purposes. But Rockefeller said he didn't plan any appeal because "it did not involve that much money."

I think the governor is making a mistake. Government owes the state's richest man the same fair shake expected for a poor person; and a rich man has the particular obligation to use his wealth and power to expose political conspiracy — something denied a poor citizen for lack of personal resources.

As China's domestic difficulties increase it appears that American policy in Vietnam may grow progressively bolder.

The Senate Preparedness Committee Thursday called for increased bombing and the closing of the vital North Vietnam port of Haiphong. In the absence of any formal declaration of war a blockade of Haiphong would be a calculated risk. But so are our bombing missions close to the Chinese frontier. And, some point out, we underwrote all risks when we first sent our forces into Vietnam.

The rise in hawkish sentiment is due to the belief that Red China is too involved in civil war at home to intervene in Vietnam. Most Americans feel that if China should actually collapse the Vietnam war would be wound up in a hurry.

Senate Lets House Have Home Money

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate voted Thursday to let House members take more taxpayer-financed trips home than senators are allowed.

A bill passed without debate and sent to President Johnson lets each House member take one roundtrip home for each month Congress is in session.

House members now are limited to four such trips annually at government expense, but senators get six. In recent years Congress has usually met during more than six months.

House members also will be permitted — even if their district is adjacent to Washington — to collect $750 for transportation expenses in lieu of billing for each trip. The present lump sum limit is $300.

The bill is retroactive to Jan. 3.

Chrysler Won't Lock Out Union

DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler Corp. broke the auto industry silence today with a carefully worded statement inferring it would not lock out United Auto Workers Union members if the union struck some other company.

The development reinforced speculation that UAW President Walter P. Reuther has left himself little alternative but to challenge General Motors Corp. in search of a new contract.

U.S. Steel Ups Prices Third Time

NEW YORK (AP) — Bethlehem Steel Corp. today became the third major steel producer to reject an administration plea for price restraint and raised the price of its steel bars.

Bethlehem said that effective Sept. 7 the base price of its hot-rolled carbon and alloy steel bars would increase $3 a ton.

Earlier, this week U.S. Steel Corp. and Republic Steel Corp. announced increases on bar products.

Just hours after Gardner Ackley, the President's top economic advisor, sent telegrams Thursday to steel producers asking them to hold off on further price boosts, U. S. Steel raised the price of its bar products 1.8 per cent.

The firm is the nation's top steel producer.

The increase, effective Monday, was identical to one announced Wednesday by Republic Steel Corp., the No. 3 producer. The increases, covering 16 per cent of industry-wide shipments, amount to $3 and $4 a ton on various bar products.

Steel bars are used in a variety of end products, ranging from industrial fasteners to railroad car axles. Other major steel producers had no comment on Ackley's telegram, but said they were studying the new price hikes. But if the industry's price pattern holds, it can be expected to follow suit within the week.

This week's increase marks the first time in a year that big steel came face-to-face with the administration over prices. The White House and the Council of Economic Advisors called a price increase last August "inflationary this time but called the price boosts distressing."

He said the addition of steel bars to products which have gone up in price since November rules out the possibility that the increases were selective and in some cases justified.

"They must be viewed as a consistent pattern that has resulted in higher prices for nearly half the steel tonnage produced in this country," Ackley

Idolatry of Gadget Hits Peak in Worship of the Color TV Set

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — America's idolatry of the gadget has reached a peak in the present worship of the color television set.

Whether you own one or not determines your social class whether you belong to the haves or the have nots, the "in" group or the "out" group.

"How long are we going to go on living the Dark Ages?" demanded my daughter, Tracy Ann, who is 14.

"Yes, the Dark Ages!" she said dramatically. "That's what life is without a color television set."

"Practically everybody has a color set except us. How long are we going to stay underprivileged?"

"Oh, we'll get one soon."

"How soon?"

"As soon as you can get one by mailing away breakfast food boxes."

But I suppose we will have to buy a color set before too long. My wife Frances has joined my daughter's assault, and it is difficult for a man to hold out against two ruthless females, no matter how great his integrity.

Besides, I don't think it's fair of me to subject them to possible social ostracism. My neighbors for some time have looked upon me with suspicion because I've never owned an automobile. If I don't give in and buy a color television set, they may start picketing me as a guy who's un-American and a threat to local property values.

There are several reasons why I haven't joined the race to bring "glorious living color" into my living room.

Such as:

125 Are Arrested in Milwaukee for Ignoring Demonstration Ban

By KEN HARTNETT
MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) —

Police engulfed a line of 400 civil rights marchers Thursday night backing a 30-day ban on street demonstrations. At least 125 persons were arrested, including a white Roman Catholic priest, the Rev. James Groppi.

Two persons were injured. There were indications that another march might be staged tonight.

"They can never get all of us," said one Negro nearly in tears after police scattered the marchers.

"Let's fill up the whole jail." It was the second straight attempted demonstration by the Milwaukee Youth Council of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. Fifty-eight persons were arrested Wednesday night.

A police car was burned and the windshield smashed soon after the dispersal of Thursday night's march. Also among those arrested was Mrs. Vel Phillips, Milwaukee's only Negro member of the Milwaukee Common Council.

Virtually all those arrested were charged with violating Mayor Henry Maier's edict against street demonstrations. The ban was imposed Wednesday in an emergency proclamation prompted by open housing marches by the youth council into the predominantly Polish South Side area. Another march might be attempted tonight by Rev. Groppi, after a rally at St. Boniface church where he is assistant pastor.

Foul Play in Death Suspected

GRADY, Ark. (AP) — City Marshal Pruitt Russ said Thursday that he was investigating the possibility of foul play in the death of Nathaniel Spencer, 45, of Grady, whose badly mangled body was found Saturday morning on the right of way of the Missouri Pacific Railroad tracks near here.

Russ said Spencer's clothing contained neither money nor the check he received last Friday from his employer at Pine Bluff. He also said that he had never seen Spencer in the area where his body was found during the 20 years that he had known him.

my sense of values to pay for an entertainment toy more than I spent for a full year of college in my youth.

B. If I want to see glorious living color, I can watch a sunrise or sunset, or stick my head out the window after a summer shower and look at a rainbow.

C. It is my firm belief that seeing Ed Sullivan's teeth in beige, or Barbra Streisand's nose in pastel mauve, won't really make me admire their artistry any more.

D. I'm afraid that if I get a color television set I'll become as snobbish as some of my friends who now own one.

My friends don't talk of their color sets as machines. They speak of them as if they were pampered pets — almost as if they were alive, but in somewhat delicate health.

"Is yours alright?"

"Yes, it's coming along just fine. How is yours?"

Recently the color set of one of my friends had a breakdown. I thought my friend was going to have one too, I didn't know whether to mail a get-well card to my friend or to the repair hospital where his set had been taken for a thorough examination. Both were sick, sick, sick.

I thought of phoning the repair hospital to see how his set was coming along, but desisted. I had the eerie feeling that if I did so, a voice on the phone would reply: "I'm sorry, but that color set is in surgery at present. A bulletin on its condition will be issued later."

Milk Prices Hiked in Arkansas

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP) — Milk prices to handlers and processors were increased by 2.5 cents per half gallon today in Arkansas and in other states in the central part of the country from Canada to the Gulf of Mexico.

Associated Dairymen, Inc., bargaining agency for 38 dairy farmer cooperatives, announced the increased prices for fluid milk for bottling purposes in all markets served by its members.

Coleman Dairy of Little Rock protested the increase immediately after it was announced Thursday. In a letter to Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman, Coleman said it was given only 31 hours notice before the increase was to begin.

Egypt Joins Jordan in 'Dove' Role

KHARTOUM, Sudan (AP) — Gamal Abdel Nasser told the final working session of the Arab summit conference today it is essential to rebuild the war-shattered Arab armies while seeking a political solution to the Middle East's problems.

In a 90-minute address, the Egyptian President said the Arabs may be compelled to resort to force to regain territories conquered by Israel in the June war if political means fail.

He stressed a military buildup was necessary so that the Arabs should speak from a position of strength.

Thus Egypt joined Jordan as a dove — they lost most heavily in the war — while Syria remains the most hawklike of the Arab states, having boycotted the summit meeting. Syria lost only a sliver of land in the war.

In return for its stand, Egypt will benefit from a huge relief fund to be financed chiefly by the Arab oil states to help recover from the economic consequences of the war.

The conference Thursday night agreed to set up a $392-million emergency fund. Egypt will get $256 million, Jordan $122 million and Syria $14 million despite its boycott of the conference.

Kuwait will give $154 million, Saudi Arabia $140 million, and Libya $84 million. Other Arab states will contribute a total of $14 million.

Public Bodies Can't Hold Closed Meets

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Circuit Judge Warren Wood ruled Thursday that the new Freedom of Information Act does not permit public bodies to hold closed meetings to discuss legal matters with their lawyers.

Wood's decision gave the press a victory in the first court test of the law, which was passed by the 1967 General Assembly.

The case involved a closed meeting of the North Little Rock Council April 24. The council, at the request of City Atty. Reed W. Thompson, excluded Ralph K. Patrick, managing Editor of the Times, North Little Rock's weekly news-paper, along with the Arkansas Gazette reporter.

The suit was filed by The Times; the Pulaski Publishing Company, which publishes the paper; Robert S. McCord, its editor and publisher, and Patrick.

Cong Kidnaps Civilians in Terror Drive

By BARRY KRAMER
SAIGON (AP) — Several

thousand Vietnamese massed in the middle of Saigon today for the final joint rally of the presidential campaign despite a mounting terrorist campaign to scare voters away from Sunday's election.

As the team of U.S. observers sent by President Johnson watched from the rooftop terrace of a U.S. officers' hotel across the street, the presidential candidates made their last big appeals for the support of the voters.

Chief of State Nguyen Van Thieu and Premier Nguyen Cao Ky, the military candidates for president and vice president, were still expected to win.

Saigon was peppered by four small-scale terrorist attacks in the last 24 hours in which three Vietnamese were wounded and a terrorist was killed. Other Red harassments dotted the nation, but the major Red campaign to terrorize the voters was taking place in the politically shaky five northern provinces.

Sketchy reports from those provinces of the 1st Corps area said guerrillas kidnapped at least 200 people in the past few days, including 65 early today. A Viet Cong band entered a hamlet a few miles from Da Nang before dawn, awakened the villagers and herded off most of the men, including the village chief.

South Vietnamese officials suspected that they were taken as hostages to scare their relatives into heeding Viet Cong orders to boycott the election.

The 22 American election observers spent their second day talking with election officials and voters in cities and towns throughout the country. Those who attended the rally in the capital heard an English translation of the candidates' speeches over a loudspeaker on the hotel terrace.

Reuther Is Going After Gen. Motors

By A.F. MAHAN
DETROIT (AP) — United Auto

Workers President Walter P. Reuther appeared today to have left himself little alternative but to challenge General Motors Corp. in search of a new contract.

Unless there is an agreement with one of the big three — GM, Ford or Chrysler — by 11:59 p.m. Wednesday, Reuther says "there will be a strike in the auto industry."

But Reuther says the walkout would be against only one company, not the industry wide strike he accused the big three of conspiring to push his union towards Thursday.

Man Held for Threat to Kill McClellan

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Ernest Housley, 50, of Hot Springs, part-time house painter, was being held today by Hot Springs police, who identified him as the man who threatened Thursday to kill Sen. John L. McClellan, D - Ark.

Police Chief John Erney said he recognized Housley's voice when he received a call about 9:15 a.m. Thursday and heard a man say: "I just saw McClellan come out of the Arlington Hotel. I'll kill the... before the day is over."

Erney said Housley was taken into custody about 4 p.m. He said McClellan spent about 10 minutes talking to Housley at the Police Station in order to determine the man's motive, but that he didn't know what was said. He said McClellan told him only that Housley admitted the telephone threat. McClellan couldn't be reached for comment.

McClellan was in hot springs to attend the funeral of Devere Dierks Jr., executive vice president of Dierks Forest, Inc., who was killed Tuesday in an automobile accident.

Group Wants Bombing Stepup; LBJ Policy Defended by Leader

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson said today there are "no deep divisions" within the administration on Vietnam bombing policy. In fact, he said, he thinks there's more harmony and general agreement now than he has seen in the past.

Johnson, holding a news conference in his office on short notice, said he has authorized hitting six out of every seven bombing targets in North Vietnam that have been proposed by the military authorities.

Of 350 potential targets, the chief executive said, about 300 have been authorized. He said all civilian and military advisers were in agreement on those 300.

By WALTER R. MEARS
WASHINGTON (AP) — A panel of investigating senators pressed for a major intensification of the air war against North Vietnam — but Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said the bombing already is "close to the point of saturation in terms of rational purpose."

"There is a strong suggestion, moreover," said Mansfield, "that to go much further would be meaningless except in the context of the barbarism of total war on the entire civilian population—a bombing back into the stone age."

Arkansas Weather to Be Good

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The weather is expected to be excellent for motorists who will stream to Arkansas' highways over the Labor Day weekend.

Fair skies and cool temperatures characterized the state's weather today and these conditions are predicted to continue through the weekend. No rain is forecast.

A high pressure area centered over Wisconsin dominates Arkansas' weather pattern, but it now appears that the major thrust of cooler air has moved east of the state.

However, minimum temperatures tonight will still be on the cool side with readings in the upper 40s and 50s.

High temperatures Thursday were in the 80s and low 90s. Overnight lows ranged from 43 at Fayetteville to 57 at Texarkana. High temperatures Saturday are expected to be in the mid 80s to low 90s.

The only rainfall reported in the state for the 24-hour period ending at 7 a.m. today included .75 of an inch at Texarkana and .57 at El Dorado.

CARLSBAD, N.M. (AP) — Philip van Cleave, naturalist at Carlsbad Caverns National Park, says a high number of deaths have been noted among cavern bats.

U.S. Planes Shot Down

By GEORGE MCARTHUR
SAIGON (AP) — The Communist terror campaign mounted sharply today. Meanwhile, the U.S. Command reported three more U. S. planes shot down over North Vietnam, raising losses in the North to 22 in the past 11 days.

The major Red campaign to terrorize voters before Sunday's presidential and senatorial elections was taking place in the politically sensitive five northern provinces. Fragmentary reports said guerrillas kidnapped no less than 200 people there in the past few days — about 65 of them early today.

A strong band of guerrillas entered Kim Nam hamlet a few miles from Da Nang, awakened most of the males including the village chief.

South Vietnamese authorities reported it likely that the kidnapped villagers were being held as hostages to ensure that their relatives boycotted the election according to Viet Cong instructions. Similar kidnappings have been reported in at least three other northern villages, and authorities fear that more are unreported.

Communist gunners inside and above the demilitarized zone dividing Vietnam were harassing U.S. Marine positions with repeated mortar and artillery attacks evidently designed to emphasize Red strength during election time.

At least four Americans were killed and 57 were wounded. The Americans countered with radar-directed fire on Red gun positions, jet assaults on positions that were spotted and B52 strikes Thursday night and this morning on suspected enemy strongholds.

Other Communist attacks dotted the nation, particularly in the populous Mekong delta. Three villages were hit by mortars early today, and the guerrillas were reportedly deploying numerous small units to disrupt traffic on Highway 4, the main road from Saigon south into the delta.

U.S. Command reported the guerrillas early today tried to trick a U.S. Navy patrol boat into firing on a friendly village. The guerrillas opened up on the

Nashville Man Fails to Pay Reparation

FT. WORTH — Bob McClure, Nashville, Ark., produce dealer doing business in his own name, has failed to pay a reparation award issued under the Perishable Agriculture Commodities Act, the U.S. Department of Agriculture announced today.

USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service said Mr. McClure is not entitled to conduct business under the PAC Act until the reparation award is paid. He cannot be employed by another PACA licensee without USDA approval.

CMS officials said a produce firm in Minneapolis, Minn., complained that Mr. McClure had failed to pay $340 for brokerage fees incurred through the sale of six truckloads of peaches, Mr.

McClure was advised of the complaint, but did not answer the charges. USDA ordered payment of the full amount claimed due, plus interest, through default proceedings.

Regulatory services of PACA for Arkansas and other southwestern states are handled by the Ft. Worth office, regulatory branch, fruit and vegetable division, CMS, USDA. Joseph E. Ward is in charge of the office, Room 9 - C - 03 Federal Office Bldg., 819 Taylor Street.

The Perishable Agricultural Commodities Act establishes a code of good business conduct for the produce industry. As a means of enforcing that code it requires that interstate traders in fresh and frozen fruits and vegetables be licensed. The law authorizes USDA to suspend or revoke a trader's license for violating the Act.

The industry, in the past month alone, has raised prices on steel plate, canmaking steels and bars which accounts for a third of shipments.

U.S. Steel said it gave "very thoughtful attention to Mr. Ackley's comments" before raising prices.

"We are also very mindful of inflationary pressures, having been on the receiving end of many of them," the company said. "But after the long period of relative price stability in steel, these modest price changes cannot be considered either unwarranted or inflation-inducing."

U.S. Steel and Republic both cited rising labor and material costs and declining profits.

Second quarter profits in the steel industry skidded 36 per cent this year.

Taking these factors into account, steel observers in the past month have been predicting a general price increase.

Analysts figure the time is ripe for it. Although sales are beginning to pick up, they argue that if steel waits for a sales boom it would weaken its argument for higher prices.

Congress Still Has Plenty
Left Undone

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

WASHINGTON (AP)—A long, cold autumn seems likely to be the price Congress will have to pay for dawdling through the long, hot summer.

It's off again on its third vacation since convening last January. And when it returns Sept. 11, the end of the 1967 session won't be in sight.

Legislative leaders no longer have a fixed target date for final adjournment, although they hopefully look to mid-November as the get-away period. In the optimistic opening days of the session, they plugged for July 31 as going-home day. Then they backed it up to Labor Day. They'd settle now for Thanksgiving Day.

Although much has been done during the first eight months, much more remains to be done if the scheduled business is to be disposed of before the end of the year. And most of the remaining legislation is highly controversial.

It deals with tax increases, higher postal rates, pay raises, Social Security, the antipoverty program, civil rights, foreign aid and election law reforms, to list a few.

A tax bill is scheduled to hit the House floor in mid-October, and then it starts all over in the Senate.

The Social Security measure, broadening benefits, has passed the House but isn't expected to reach a Senate vote until late in October.

The election reform bill is the Senate's unfinished business when Congress returns. It hasn't been acted on by the House. Also nearing the voting stage in the Senate are a $2.6 billion antipoverty bill and a broad housing measure including a House-rejected provision to exterminate rats in slum areas.

Major unfinished business on the House calendar is a compromise $70 billion defense appropriation bill with a controversial provision banning naval ship contract awards to British shipyards.

House-passed bills to protect civil rights workers and to make it a federal crime to cross state lines to incite rioting are languishing in the Senate Judiciary Committee headed by Sen. James Eastland, D-Miss.

The House Post Office and Civil Service Committee hopes to have ready soon bills to hike postal rates and to boost the pay of postal and civil service employees. Pay raises for military personnel are being considered by the House Armed Services Committee. The pay bills are "must" for the pre-election year session.

Only six of the 17 appropriation bills have gone to President Johnson. Eight of the remaining 11 have passed the House only. The three that haven't been considered by either branch finance the foreign-aid program, military construction, and antipoverty programs. They can't be considered until separate legislation is enacted putting spending ceilings on the programs.

The money bills enacted involved presidential requests for $93.5 billion in new funds and reflected congressional cuts of $1.9 billion. This includes the Defense Department measure over which there is no controversy as to appropriations. Economy-voting isn't keeping pace with economy-talking.

But despite the long holidays and delays over censoring Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., and unseating Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y., Congress has pretty much to show for its work to date.

Warmer and Dry Labor Day Outlook

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Generally dry and possibly warmer weather is the outlook for the nation on its Labor Day weekend.

The U.S. Weather Bureau said that although record low temperatures were set in many cities during August a change to warmer weather appeared in sight at least for the first few days of September.

There is a chance of showers in some sections.

In the Pacific Northwest, scorched by abnormally high temperatures and virtually no rain along with forest fires in many sections, there appeared a possibility of some relief from the heat. But the outlook for relief from the prolonged heat wave looked dim in most other areas, including Southern California, Western Montana, Western Idaho and the Southwest desert region.

The mercury has been in the 90s and above 100 degrees in most of the hot belt. Thursday's high marks included 103 at Los Angeles and 100 at Spokane, Wash.

The mercury early today dropped to the 30s from Maine to Minnesota and in mountain areas of Pennsylvania. Readings were in the 40s and 50s in most sections of the vast cool belt.

Forecasters said a warming trend was expected today from the Plains to the western Great Lakes region, with warming expected in areas eastward and southward over the weekend.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield has privately passed the word to President Johnson to order lobbyists for government agencies to "keep their distance" from the Senate.

Mansfield is understood to have acted after intense lobbying efforts by officials of the Pentagon and the Agency for International Development were blamed for losing—rather than gaining—votes in a critical battle over foreign aid.

Mansfield said in an interview he asked Mike Manatos, the chief White House liaison man with the Senate, to advise the President that Mansfield "didn't want people from the agencies to lobby here...in other words, to keep their distance."

The problem, Mansfield suggested, was that officials concerned with legislation dealing with their agencies' authority or funds become overzealous and trample on seeded congressional gardens.

Another unwelcome byproduct of such lobbying was, he suggested, confusion and irritation—particularly when an agency's officials are following the same route already covered by Mansfield or White House staffers.

"Sometimes," he observed, Mansfield, "they see senators I have seen or have been seen by my people, and senators don't want to be seen and seen again."

Mansfield did not specify what incident caused his request to Johnson. Other Senate sources say it was principally due to the activities of people from AID, the Pentagon and the State Department in trying to drum up senatorial support last month.

"They were scurrying around here pretty good," said one Senate source.

Another, who has witnessed foreign aid battles from both the congressional and administration sides, observed with a practiced eye: "At first they weren't lobbying at all. Then they were overlobbying. They were everywhere. They were crawling out of the woodwork."

Sleeps Floating in Water

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Fess Abell gives lifeguards fits if they don't know him.

He has a habit of going to sleep in the water. "No great problem," says the 83-year-old Abell, "I just relax like I'm in bed, breathe deep and natural and pretty soon I'm sound asleep."

"I have slept so hard that someone had to splash my face with water to wake me up."

"It's really great," Abell also can float vertically in 15 feet of water and claims to be able to float in any position.

The former YMCA worker says he taught an estimated 25,000 people to swim in his 65 years of instructions. He says that relaxation and natural breathing are the secrets of floating.

boat from within the village and then fled. The Navy boat did not return the fire, authorities said.

North of Saigon, guerrillas blew up several small bridges on one of the larger roads about 20 miles above the city. U.S. engineers immediately started repairs and hoped to have traffic restored before Sunday.

Saigon police reported four terrorist strikes in the capital in the past 24 hours. One Red agent was shot and killed by a policeman he had just wounded with a pistol shot. Two Vietnamese were wounded by grenades.

The terrorism did not hinder election preparations in Saigon. Thousands turned out for a rally in the middle of the city at which the presidential candidates made their last joint appearance.

The three planes lost over North Vietnam Thursday brought to 669 the total of American combat planes officially reported lost in the air war against the Communist North that began nearly 32 months ago.

All three were U.S. Navy Skyhawk bombers, and the U.S. Command said the three fliers were missing. North Vietnam claimed eight American planes and a rescue helicopter were shot down and "a number" of U.S. pilots were captured.

U.S. spokesmen said 140 missions were flown Thursday and the raids penetrated deep into the heavily defended Hanoi-Haiphong complex. A missile site only three miles from Haiphong was reported heavily damaged, while other missions hit bridges, rail lines, truck convoys and storage depots.

U.S. Command said two attacks on rail yards 15 miles northwest of Haiphong and 15 miles south of Hanoi were particularly rewarding. Air Force pilots also reported destroying a bridge connecting Hanoi with the industrial complex of Thai Nguyen about 40 miles above the capital.

The intensified strikes on the Hanoi-Haiphong area have been exceptionally costly in fliers. Since Aug. 21, when the sharp upturn in plane losses began, 28 pilots have been lost and only four picked up by helicopter rescues.

Despite these losses, the men directing the air war say it is inflicting heavier damage on the North Vietnamese supply system. With only about two more months of good weather remaining before the monsoon changes, American airmen are determined to keep up the pressure.

Meanwhile, Wimbledon queen Billie Jean King of Long Beach, Calif., the favorite to bring the United States its first women's crown since 1961, led a contingent of four seeded American girls into the second round.

Flag Features

Religious edifices are featured on the flags of several nations. For example, Afghanistan's black, red and green banner shows a mosque. Reflecting the nation's Islamic character, Cambodia's blue and red flag shows the great temple of Angkor Wat, the symbol of Buddhism.

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet government today ordered the expulsion of the U.S. Embassy press attache and refused to allow the agricultural attache to return to his assignment here.

The Embassy said: "Neither of these men has done anything wrong."

Americans suggested unofficially that the expulsion was in retaliation for the recent cancellation of visas for two Soviet diplomats in the United States in connection with a spy case.

The Soviet Foreign Ministry sent a note by messenger to the U.S. Embassy which gave notice of the action.

U.S. Wheat Is Given to India

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson released today another one million tons of American wheat to combat the threat of starvation in India.

This brings the total made available so far to 2.5 million tons, and another 500,000 tons have been authorized.

Johnson told reporters it will be determined at a later date whether the additional 500,000 tons can be made available. He said that will depend on such factors as the extent to which other nations match U.S. donations.

Amateur Champion Takes Lead

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—Some phrases and words, most unprintable, to enrich golfdom's colorful vocabulary are flowing from the 67th U.S. Amateur Championship over the Broadmoor West's fog-bound, wind-blown, water-logged links.

Bob Dickson of McAlester, Okla., the reigning British Amateur king, was gracious and happy after posting his one-over par 71 to take a three-stroke lead in Thursday's partly completed first round.

Consequently his original contribution to golf grammar was negligible.

Bristling, descriptive phrases about the mountain-rimmed 6,946-yard par 35-35-70 course cascaded from the lips of players like former champion Bob Murphy—a 77 shooter—and Bill Harvey, the 36-year-old Dixie Amateur champion.

Murphy, the 1965 winner of this tourney from Nichols, Fla., opened his post-round discussion with sportswriters by throwing his shoes across the locker room.

But then every player coming off the misty, fog-shrouded course into the locker room first yanked off his soaked shoes and wrenched the water from his socks.

That seemed to release some of the frustrations accumulated during three interruptions in play caused by drifting clouds of fog that blanketed out the greens and fairways at various times during a trying day.

military preparedness subcommittee for a bombing step that would include air raids on the Communist port of Haiphong added an angry new dimension to congressional debate on the Vietnam war.

Mansfield answered the Thursday report in advance with a strongly worded defense of the policy pursued by Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara and President Johnson.

He said later in an interview he stood by that Senate speech as his answer to the pressure for more bombing—and to criticism of McNamara studying the subcommittee report.

The Pentagon said it would have no comment on the report hastened into print by the panel which concluded Tuesday a three-week investigation of administration policy in the air war.

One of its key passages: "The subcommittee is of the opinion that we cannot, in good conscience, ask our ground forces to continue their fight in South Vietnam unless we are prepared to press the air war in the North in the most effective way possible. This requires closing the Port of Haiphong, isolating it from the rest of the country, striking all meaningful targets with a military significance, and increasing the interdiction of the lines of communication from Red China."

"What is needed now is the hard decision to do whatever is necessary, take the risks that have to be taken, and apply the force that is required to see the job through," the report said.

It acknowledged these risks include the possibility of conflict with Communist China or the Soviet Union.

Have Separated

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Audrey Hepburn and Mel Ferrer have separated after 10 years of marriage, according to their personal representative.

The statement Thursday gave no reason for the separation but said there were no immediate plans for divorce.

Ferrer, 50, is currently in Paris where he is preparing to produce a film.

Miss Hepburn, 38, is living in the family home in Switzerland with their son, Sean, 7.

Last Chance... This Summer

Labor Day already? That last big weekend of the season is coming up. Next year's summer won't be like this one. Playing back yard softball may not be as exciting for the kids. The baby will become a youngster. Today's special brand of fun will be long gone. If you've been keeping your camera handy all summer, you probably have dozens of happy picture memories to look back on. But if your camera hasn't clicked too often, make this weekend your do a little catching up. Plan now to drop in for fresh Kodak film, and let us check your camera.

Wedding Vows Are Repeated

MR. AND MRS. GILBERT L. BROWN JR.

The sanctuary of the Unity Baptist Church was the setting Thursday, August 17, at 7:30 p.m. for the wedding of Miss Jo Ann Kidd and Gilbert L. Brown Jr.

The Rev. Jerry Kidd of Fort Walton Beach, Florida, brother of the bride, officiated at the double ring ceremony. Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Kidd of Hope and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert L. Brown Sr. of Springhill. The sanctuary was beautifully decorated with a pair of seven branched candelabras holding light blue tapers entwined with greenery and each side of the altar was flanked with tall baskets of white gladiolus and light blue lily of the valley.

Vows were exchanged in soft candle light extending down each side of the sanctuary. A soft light shown over the altar.

Prior to the wedding ceremony Mrs. Jack Brown presented a program of nuptial music and accompanied Mrs. Jerry Kidd, sister-in-law of the bride, as she sang "Whither Thou Goest" and "Each For The Other." Mrs. Kidd also sang "The Lord's Prayer" as the couple knelt on the white satin covered prie-dieu. Before the ceremony, the candles were lighted by Miss Wanda Jean McBryde and Miss Rhonda Joan McBryde, twin cousins of the bride.

Immediately preceding the bride was Miss Mealline McAdams, flower girl. She carried a white wicker basket decorated with white Fuji mums and scattered rose petals.

Entering on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage, the bride wore a floor length gown of light ivory silk organza over taffeta. The gown, fashioned on Empire lines, featured a scooped neckline with bodice and sleeves of Alencon lace etched with seed pearls. The bell shaped sleeves detailed in deep scallops were accented with short light ivory gloves. Ice blue velvet ribbon encircled the waist line with a matching blue bow at the back. The matching pillbox was encircled by a short light ivory veil of illusion and accented with an ice blue bow at the back.

The bride carried a bouquet of pale blue carnations and split mums centered with a white orchid and blue velvet streamers tied in love knots with white satin wedding bells atop a white Bible.

The flower girl and candle lighters wore identical dresses of light blue cotton satin fashioned with an Empire waist line. The bodice was of corded lace accented with blue satin bow and streamers. Their headpieces were circlets of blue satin ribbon. Their corsages were white Fuji mums.

The bride's only attendant was Mrs. Rex M. Easter of Pine Bluff, cousin of the bride. She wore a light blue moss crepe dress featuring an A-line skirt and matching pillbox with a short veil. She carried a colonial bouquet of light blue lily of the valley tied with blue streamers.

Gilbert L. Brown Sr., served his son as best man.

Ushers were Ronnie Kidd of Springhill and Fred Stevett of Fort Walton Beach, Florida.

The bride's mother chose a two piece, powder blue silk lined dress suit with matching accessories. The groom's mother chose a pink brown lace dress with white accessories. Both were identical cymbidium orchids.

Immediately following the ceremony, the bride's parents were host for a reception in the Fellowship Hall adjoining the church. The table was set with a white satin skirt overlaid with white organza and blue bows accented each corner. The table was centered with a silver candelabra with blue tapers and blue and white lily of the valley and greenery. The crystal punchservice and the three tiered wedding cake topped with wedding bells were placed at either end of the table. During the reception, Mrs. Jack Brown entertained with nuptial music. The piano was centered with the bride's bouquet and crystal candelabras holding tall blue tapers.

Serving at the reception were Mrs. Hollis V. Flowers of Batesville, Mrs. Charles McAdams of Camden, Mrs. Cecil McBryde of Pine Bluff, and Mrs. Sharon Hollis of Hope. Each wore a Fuji mum corsage. Blue rice bags were distributed by Misses Jean and Joan McBryde.

The bride's book was presided over by Miss Diane Marie Flowers and Miss Dee Flowers, both of Batesville. The table was overlaid with a white satin brocade cover topped with a white memory candle encircled with blue net accented with white wedding bells.

For travel the bride chose a two piece suit of white lace over mint green taffeta with black patent accessories. At her shoulder, she wore the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

After a short wedding trip, the couple are now at home in Washington, Arkansas.

Spring Brings Boom to Small Slav Town

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) — A spring whose water is said to increase men's potency has brought boom times to the once sleepy Bosnian town of Kladanj.

The hotel is packed. A nearby hunting lodge, rooms in private homes and local enterprises are enjoying unprecedented prosperity from the influx of visitors, many from abroad.

Ilustrovana Politika, Belgrade weekly, described the prosperity.

An array of tents has sprung up near the spring on Mt. Konjuh, 10 miles from the town. One enthusiastic inhabitant erected a signpost near a gas station read "Sex Town." It was removed next day.

Reuf Basic, director of the Town Council's communal services, is quoted as saying: "I am not ashamed to state that I have become personally convinced that the water from the spring returns virility to men. We shall make a scientific research of the water and publish the results."

A reporter from the magazine saw a letter sent by a Slovenian woman thanking Basic for hospitality shown to her and her husband on a visit to the town. She said the water from the spring had saved their marriage.

"I have received at least a score of similar letters," says Basic. But he adds: "Exaggerated rumors are bringing us trouble. They provoke distrust with sober people."

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer

DEL MAR, Calif. (AP) —

Desi Arnaz, in the period following his divorce from Lucille Ball, sold his stock in Desilu, quit show business and retired to his horse farm, his boat, the track and golf course. He stood it for three years, but now he's back with both feet—and seems a little surprised.

"Things that got me where I was were the things I couldn't do when I got there," said the man who built a camera technique and a comedy series into a giant production company, Desilu, and a fortune.

Arnaz, now in his early fifties, has picked up some weight and his hair shows considerably more salt than pepper. After three years in retirement and two developing new shows he was lured back into television as producer and director of NBC's new comedy series, "The Mothers-in-Law," and has even been persuaded to act in one of the episodes.

After directing the first eight episodes, he is sidelined at his beach home at this Pacific Ocean resort recuperating from a freak accident which almost took his life. A veranda on which he was sitting collapsed and threw him against a metal stake, puncturing his side and requiring emergency surgery.

"I got where I didn't want to be because things began parlaying," said Arnaz, lighting a slim cigar and squinting at the ocean through dark glasses.

"We had a little studio and 'I Love Lucy' and then to compete we had to get a larger studio and from there on we had to get out or get bigger. We wound up with three big studios. But by 1962 I decided I didn't want to be Lew Wasserman (head of Universal Studios). I wanted to be Willie Wyler (a top film director)."

But for three years, Desi was neither. But his attention inevitably was caught by a book which he thought would make a good movie. Soon William Paley, chairman of the Columbia Broadcasting System, called him. Arnaz said, and asked if he really intended to return to work—outside television.

"No more rat race," Desi told him. "No more wanting things day before yesterday."

"It takes three years to get even in television while losing $5,000 or $10,000 a year," he explained. "I was even then and I didn't know anything about comedy shows with gimmicks where the people take pills or live in bottles. . . . Comedy is where you pile one joke on top of another joke and people laugh."

But the result was that Desi Arnaz returned to television, signed by CBS, his old network, to develop shows. And the first venture was based on an idea that had been kicking around Desilu since "I Love Lucy" days.

NEVER THE TWAIN SHALL MEET?

Dear Helen: I'm not human before 10 a.m. and gradually improve until late evening when I have to go to sleep, against my will. My husband, on the other hand, wakes up bright as a button at 6 a.m., but folds up right after dinner.

What do you do when a morning person is married to a night person? —STRANGERS WHEN WE MEET

Dear SWWM: Could he come home for lunch?

Actually this "morning-night person" bit is mostly a matter of habit. You can each "give" a little to accommodate the other, if you put your heart and mind to it. —H

Dear Helen: I have been going with a man for four years. We argue a lot. He slaps me, has thrown things at me and drinks more than he should. He has done a lot of damage to my car because of his violent temper. But he is wonderful at other times, and I can't help loving him. He says he will change completely if I marry him. What are the chances? —C.D.

P.S. My family can't stand him.

Dear C: If he can't change for the better before marriage, you'd better believe he'll change for the worse after the honeymoon wears off. —H

P.S. Your family is probably right.

Dear Helen: My neighbor who is around 25, moved out of her apartment and in with this wealthy fellow. The problem is that her father, who is an alcoholic, doesn't know. Should I tell him? He might try to make money off it, or he might try to talk sense into her. —MKS. H

Dear Mrs. H: If your neighbor wants her father to know, she'll tell him. Stay out of it! —H

Dear Helen: When my wife answers the telephone, butter wouldn't melt in her mouth. When she hangs up the receiver, she yells, "You old so and so" (meaning me), "empty the garbage." Et, Etc. This has gone on for 40 years.

She says she doesn't nag or yak. Maybe not, but she sure bosses. Any help? —ANOTHER JIGGS

Dear Jiggs: Sorry, I can't change a mouse into a man. Besides, after 40 years of bossing, you'd probably fall apart without it. The Jiggs' of this world marry their Maggies because they need them, and if you don't think so, try spending a week away from yours. —H

Dear Helen: A relative of mine has a two-year old son to whom they have given a nickname that we feel that is not a proper or even a cute name, but the mother evidently does. Think what it will do to him at school! —A RELATIVE

Dear Relative: Nicknames at age-two somehow disappear before kindergarten. Stop worrying and consider our smallest daughter who answered to "Buck-thorne" until she was three. Honest, it didn't hurt her a bit. —H

Dear Helen: I've carried this clipping in my purse for years. Perhaps your readers will get a lift from it, too:

"To laugh often and much; to win the respect of intelligent people and the affection of children; to earn the appreciation of honest critics and endure the betrayal of false friends; to appreciate beauty; to find the best in others; to leave the world a bit better, whether by a healthy child, a garden patch or a redeemed social condition; to know even one life has breathed easier because you lived—this is to have succeeded!" —L.R.

Cepeda Hot, Cardinals Again Win

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer
It's a good thing for the rest of the National League that St. Louis' Orlando Cepeda isn't feeling very chipper.
"I'm dragging," Cepeda complained. "You get tired about now. You can't keep going bam, bam, bam."
One Cepeda bam was enough for the Houston Astros Thursday night.
The weary slugger smashed his 24th homer, walked twice, stole a base and hit a sacrifice fly in the Cardinals' 5-1 victory over the Astros.

Cepeda scored two runs and drove in two more, running his major league leading RBI total to 104. He is batting .344, six points less than Pittsburgh's Roberto Clemente, who tagged three hits in the Pirates' 6-4 victory over Philadelphia.

Elsewhere in the National League Thursday, Cincinnati stopped San Francisco 3-1, Atlanta edged Los Angeles 5-4 and Chicago nipped New York 2-1 in 11 innings.

In the American League, Minnesota outlasted Baltimore 10-9, Washington blanked New York 6-0 and Chicago topped Boston 4-2.

Ray Washburn won his ninth game for the Cardinals with late-inning help from Ron Willis. Jimmy Wynn accounted for Houston's only run with his 32nd homer.

Cepeda's homer came in the third inning against loser Bob Bellamy, 3-9. The big slugger hit his sacrifice fly in the two-run wrapup eighth.

Matty Alou punched an infield single that scored Al Luplow with the tie-breaking run in the seventh inning as the Pirates whipped the Phillies.

Luplow, batting for winner Bob Veale, had doubled and moved to third on a sacrifice before Alou delivered.

Juan Pizarro, who saved Veale's 15th victory, singled home Pittsburgh's final run in the eighth.

Hank Aaron touched off a three-run Atlanta rally in the eighth inning with his 33rd homer and Rico Carty climaxed the spurt with a two-run pinch double as the Braves beat Los Angeles.

Aaron's homer was his 475th career shot and tied him for ninth place on the all-time major league list with Stan Musial.

After the homer, Clete Boyer reached base on an error and Mack Jones walked before Carty doubled. It marked the first time in two seasons that the Braves defeated Claude Osteen.

Rookie catcher John Bench tagged a two-run double — only his second major league hit — to break a 1-1 tie in the seventh inning and carry Cincinnati past San Francisco.

Jim Maloney, who struck out six straight batters over one stretch, hurled a four-hitter and gained his 13th victory. Lee May homered for the Reds snapping loser Mike McCormick's 25-inning scoreless streak. McCormick is 18-7.

Al Spangler's 11th inning pinch single drove in Chicago's winning run against the Mets. Ernie Banks had opened the inning with a single and reached second when Randy Hundley was hit by a pitch.

Retirement of Law Was No Surprise

PITTSBURGH (AP) — To those on the Pittsburgh Pirates who knew him well, Vernon Law's retirement came as no surprise.

Weary and aching after 16 seasons, most of them with a losing club, Law, 37, no longer possessed the ability which once vaulted him to the pinnacle of his profession.

Law, winner of only two games this year for seventh-place Pittsburgh, plagued by arm trouble and hobbled by a groin injury, announced Thursday he was calling it quits.

Law led the Pirates' pitching staff for most of his 16 years — 10 of them in the second division — and in 1960 carried them to a World Series victory and won the Cy Young award as baseball's best pitcher.

Bobcats Open Season at Arkadelphia

By RALPH ROUTON
Star Sports Writer

Apprehension, butterflies, and downright fears will be absolved tonight, as the Hope Bobcats take the field to open the season against the Arkadelphia Badgers at 7:30 p.m.

The game will be played at Henderson College's Haygood Field. This is the Bobcats' last game at Haygood, as HSTC will have a spanking new stadium in use next year. It should be a battle.

The Bobcats haven't lost to the Badgers in several years, and this year shouldn't see that string broken. Arkadelphia is little heard of, and less known. A consensus last place pick has been thrown on them, but Winston Duke's troops could leave that spot in '67. This will be the first game of the season for both teams, so neither has scouted the other.

The game will be broadcast live and direct from Arkadelphia over KXAR, beginning at 7:00 p.m. with the Pre-Game Show. PROBABLE STARTING LINEUP

85 Porkers Report for Practice

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — The Arkansas Razorbacks opened fall practice here Thursday with 85 candidates snapping through 15 minutes of calisthenics and 45 minutes of wind sprints after their physical examinations and weigh-ins.

"We expected this number," said Head Coach Frank Broyles, "but really, including the number of boys not on scholarship, we should have had more than 90 here today."

Offensive tackle Ernest Ruple tipped the scales at 243 pounds with his 6-foot-5 frame, which makes him the biggest pig on the team. Fred Ferrell's 161 pounds won him the dubious honor of being the smallest man out.

Quarterback Ronnie South, who was red-shirted last year and who missed spring drills because of military training with the National Guard, weighed 195 pounds — 10 pounds more than when he started in 1965.

John Curtis, a 5-foot-11, 203-pound middle guard whose flight was delayed from Memphis, was the only absentee at the practice.

Terry Don Phillips, younger brother of two-time All-American Loyd Phillips, ignored the advice of doctors and took part in the drills. He injured his back last week during a fall.

Monsterman David Cooper, 6-foot-11, 215 pounds, experienced some minor difficulty in breathing and had to be helped into the dressing room at the close of practice, but a team spokesman said there was no cause for concern.

The Hogs begin two-a-day workouts today as they prepare for their Sept. 23rd opener at Little Rock against Oklahoma State.

Mrs. Wright Favored in Ladies Play

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Veteran Mickey Wright, who holds more tournament victories than any other feminine swinger, is favored to successfully defend her ladies' World Series of Golf title here this weekend.

But the five other women who make up the field for the $32,000 tournament will shoot the works in a bid to grab the $10,000 first prize money.

Firing starts at 1:30, EDT, Saturday in the 36-hole medal play test over the par 72, 6,101-yard Snyder Park golf course.

The 31-year-old Miss Wright, rated perhaps the greatest woman golfer of all time, scored an easy victory here in the first Ladies Professional Golf Association World Series with a 136 total.

That was four strokes better than runner-up Sandra Haynie of Fort Worth, Tex., who picked up $7,500 for her second-place finish.

Picks Hope to Defeat Badgers

By HARRY KING

Associated Press Writer

DeWitt and West Memphis, two of the favorites in Region 2AA, won't have a chance to warm up against non-conference opponents this season.

Both step right into conference play tonight — Wynne playing at DeWitt and Marianna going to West Memphis. Those four teams will be among almost 170 teams which kickoff the season Friday.

DeWitt has lost only once in the last two years and even coach Sam Cook admits he has a fine group of physical specimens, including a bevy of backs.

Wynne returns 27 lettermen, including nine offensive and eight defensive starters. The Dragons have been though the pressure before and figure to come out on top. DeWitt 19, Wynne 6.

Marianna moved up to Class AA last year and managed a .500 season. The Porcupines are expected to improve this year.

West Memphis has a solid starting lineup according to coach Kenneth Turner, but may lack depth. West Memphis 13, Marianna 7.

Rogers and Springdale are matched in what should be the best inter-class contest. Rogers is one of two favorites in Region 1AA and Springdale, headed by tailback Steve Brown, shares the same role in the AAA's Western Division. Springdale has more size and that could be the difference. Springdale 14, Rogers 7.

Horace Mann and Little Rock Catholic meet in what should be another top AA-AAA match. It will be the first game between the two teams. Catholic 19, Horace Mann 14.

Other AAA and AA forecasts around the state:

Blytheville 14, Helena 7

Batesville 7, Jonesboro 6

Conway 20, McClellan 6

North Little Rock 20, Jacksonville 6

El Dorado 13, Camden 7

Thursday's Stars

BATTING — Rich Reese, Twins, whacked a pinch hit two-run homer in the bottom of the ninth inning giving Minnesota a 10-9 victory over Baltimore.

PITCHING — Frank Bertina, Senators, pitched a three-hitter and shut out New York 6-0.

Banned Bowling

Bowling on the green is a popular sport in England and Canada. At one time, it was banned by English monarchs who feared it would divert men from the practice of archery.

Simple Bids Vs. Scientific

By Oswald & James Jacoby Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

In the early thirties John Larus of Hartford pointed out that there were certain lazy bids that should be put to work.

The Blackwood convention is the most conspicuous example of one of these lazy bids becoming productive. The convention has put the four no-trump to gainful employment.

Modern bidding has concerned itself with many more of these lazy bids but there is no unanimity among players about them. Some experts try to bid simply as possible, others want to cover as many extra possibilities as they can.

The simple bidders laugh when the complicated bidders foul up, the complicated bidders exult when a wildcat convention hits oil.

North's jump cue bid of three diamonds was one of these fancy bids at work. It didn't show anything like a diamond suit and it was no more of a forcing bid than a simple two diamond cue bid would have been. What it did show specifically was a very

THE ECONOMIC COST OF ILLNESS

Illness is a multibillion dollar item in the American budget. A Public Health Service study of direct expenditures for medical care and the indirect costs of illness, disability and death put the total for the year studied, 1963, at $58 billion.

BOATS ARE BEING DRAFTED for war use by the U.S. Navy, for river patrol action in Vietnam. The same 31-foot glass fiber hull used in pleasure boats is converted to military purposes, and can travel at high speeds through swamp water as shallow as 10 inches. The hulls are easily maintained and repaired after combat. Here a patrol boat scoots after its sister ship, a 31-foot pleasure cruiser.

SO YOU THINK you've got a big motor crammed into that custom-built flivver of yours. Try comparing it with this powerhouse, a 16-cylinder diesel engine being lowered onto its matching base by workers at Worthington Corporation's compressor and engine division in Buffalo, N.Y.

An Exercise in Democracy

Threatened by Viet Cong terrorism, faced with almost certain ballot box hanky panky in some instances, the South Vietnamese are nevertheless casting their votes Sept. 3 in the first free election for the leader of their country under the new constitution drafted late last year. For the many voters who can't read, tickets on the ballot are identified by symbols for political parties, as shown below right. Favored in the race is the Thieu-Ky ticket of the current military leaders. Of the civilian candidates, former Prime Minister Tran Van Huong and Constitutional Convention Chairman Phan Khac Suu appear to be front-runners.

SELF-SEALING MATERIAL for space capsules would quickly close punctures in spacecraft, caused by micrometeoroids. Test sample at right shows flower-like effect created by an eighth-inch projectile piercing it at 22,000 feet per second. At left is a cross-section view showing how the granular material chemically reacts to seal the puncture immediately. The sealant was developed by Hughes Aircraft.

Mobile Log Jam

The mass of logs oozing into the main channel of the Manicouagan River in Quebec at upper left is destined for a paper company 30 miles down-river, where it will be processed into paper. For conveyance from early spring until October, the logs are rafted and pulled by tug boat, as shown lower left, after moving out of a smaller channel. Below, the logs are funneled through the Manic 2 dam to the North Shore Paper Company at Baie Comeau.

UNDERGROUND dancing is not just the result of a cellar discotheque in Indonesia. Teen-agers like this girl clad in a miniskirt and leather boots meet secretly once a month as members of a club called Jakarta 007 to indulge in the kind of dancing frowned upon in their country.

Important Toy Train

An important toy for a West Virginia company is the scale model "Mill of the Future" built by two industrial engineers for Weirton Steel. The duplicate of a future modern steel making complex was pieced together in a little more than one year by Ray Campbell and Edward Schultz, for use in planning the layout of the actual project. Tedious in building, the working miniature rail yard was assembled from information in a foot-high stack of blueprints, and built to a scale of one-eighth-inch to the foot. Pondering one of the cars at left is Campbell, one of the model builders.
